

Tanker Burns After Collision; County Man Feared Dead

Richard Oakes
One Of Four
Reported Lost

Cresco—Richard E. Oakes, 33, son of Mrs. Hattie Oakes here was last night listed as one of the four crewmen of the tanker F. L. Hayes who were described by the U. S. Coast Guard as "missing and presumed dead" after a collision and fire near Wilmington, Del.

The tanker carried 640,000 gallons of high octane gasoline. It exploded in flames early yesterday after colliding with the 6,100-ton freighter Barbara Lykes in the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal.

Oakes, whose home and wife and two small sons are in Franklin Square, Long Island, N. Y., was first assistant engineer aboard the tanker.

The tanker was aflame for more 12 hours after the crash shortly after midnight yesterday. Ira S. Bushley & Sons, New York, are owners of the tanker. Beached about 20 miles south of Wilmington, the 240-ton Hayes sank partially across the heavily traveled waterway.

The Lykes completed passage through the canal, where it had no room to turn around or maneuver, anchored for a while in the Delaware River, then sailed for New York.

A third ship, the Bull Line's Angelina, also became involved when blazing gasoline spilled into the canal and set her afire. These flames were extinguished, but two seamen aboard the Angelina were injured.

Oakes was a graduate of Barrett Township High School and the Pennsylvania Nautical School. He completed his work in the latter school about 1939 and has been sailing mostly in tankers as a member of the engineer's crew, ever since.

He has four sisters, two of them residents in this county. They are Audrey, at home; Mrs. Theodore Vernoy, Canadensis; Vera Oakes, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and Mrs. P. C. Thomas, Knoxville, Tenn.

Roger Sears, Jackson Heights, L. I., captain of the Hayes, said he leaped into the canal with five other crew members, although he couldn't swim. He said five of his normal crew of 15 were home on leave.

NPA Relaxes Construction Restrictions

Washington (AP)—The government yesterday lifted controls on amusement and recreation construction, and gave out word that price ceilings on raw cotton and liquor are about to be suspended.

Dairy men went before Congress to ask that it take price controls off milk and milk products but that it retain curbs on the amount of foreign cheese and fats which may be imported.

The National Production Authority (NPA) ordered a relaxation effective July 1 of its ban on the building of amusement and recreation places. It also restored the right to use structural steel and aluminum in new houses, as of mid-year, and eased its restraints on construction of shops, stores and office buildings.

NPA revoked outright its controls over lead, antimony, cadmium and bismuth. In addition, allocation and limitations on the use of zinc were lifted, leaving this metal subject only to inventory controls.

PUC Recesses Bell Rate Case Until Next Month

Harrisburg (AP)—An argument over reproduction cost testimony broke up a hearing yesterday into a $31,706,606 a year rate increase proposed by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Jay Eisenman, of Philadelphia, Public Utility Commission hearing examiner, recessed the hearing until June to permit a revision of company testimony.

Eisenman acted after Anne X. Alpern, Pittsburgh city solicitor, objected to the company's use of a 12-month period in determining reproduction costs. The latter are used in determining whether rate increases are warranted. She said at least a 26-month period should be used.

The proposed boost would affect some two million Bell customers. It would raise most residence rates about 50 cents a month and coin box calls from five to ten cents.

Oil Workers To Call Off 16-Day Strike

Washington, (AP)—O. A. Knight, top strategy-maker of a score of unions involved in the nation-wide oil strike, said last night "we are calling off the strike," and government officials foresaw a quick end to the 16-day walkout.

Union and government officials said an actual end to the strike could come only through local agreements between union and management negotiators. Bargaining in the oil industry is on a local basis, involving some 22 different unions and hundreds of their locals.

These officials stressed that an actual end to the strike will come gradually, as such local agreements are reached.

Knight, who is president of the CIO Oilworkers Union, said that "with proper co-operation" there would be enough settlements by last night to make a start at easing what he termed a pressing shortage of aviation gasoline.

About the same time, Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation Service, said: "I hope the oil crisis has been averted." He told reporters that Federal conciliation teams have set up 15 negotiating sessions around the country for today.

The 16-day strike of 90,000 oil workers was reported exerting a critical pinch on supplies of aviation fuel. Effects of the strike over wages reached all the way to Australia where airlines almost halved their customary flight schedules.

Philadelphia, (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) charged yesterday that "corporate interests are using the steel labor dispute as part of a 'grand strategy' to kill the Truman administration's inflation control program.

Humphrey told the 2,500 cheering delegates at the CIO Steelworkers convention that business interests have been attempting for two years to destroy wage-price controls and now are redoubling their efforts in the Congress.

'Copter Feeds Scientists

Pearl River, N. Y., (AP)—A helicopter airlifted food over a mass picket line yesterday to more than 100 scientists holed up since Wednesday in a strikebound laboratory which is the sole producer of aureomycin.

Fresh food ran out Wednesday night and the plane brought in bread, milk and other supplies.

It also dropped air mattresses to the men—and some women—self-imprisoned for a second night in the Lederle Laboratories here.

They stayed in the laboratory rather than face what the company described as an angry, stone-throwing mob of 1,000 AFL pickets who might bar their re-entry.

Many of the stand-pat people inside the plant were described as "first-rank scientists, the best the company has."

The union claims 2,400 members among the laboratory's 4,500 employees.

A disturbance broke out when some non-union employees attempted to go to work yesterday, the company said.

The laboratory is the sole producer of aureomycin and also turns out penicillin, sulfa drugs and other disease fighters.

Mac Foresees 'Military' State Threat

Lansing, Mich. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur asserted last night that election maneuvering in the presidential campaign "sets the stage for the emergence upon the American scene of the ugly threat of a military state."

MacArthur spoke before a joint session of the Michigan State Legislature.

He did not openly identify a political party, nor any candidate, in his warning about "political toning-down." However, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, a leading contender for the Republican nomination, is the only military figure in the race.

During the Massachusetts primary election, April 29, campaign leaders for Sen. Robert A. Taft charged that Eisenhower's backers sought Democratic support.

MacArthur made three other major points in his prepared speech:

1. He said the talk of an imminent threat to the security of the United States from abroad is "pure nonsense." Not even the troops in Western Europe are in any present danger, the general said.

2. Nevertheless, "our country is now geared to an arms economy which was bred in an artificially induced psychosis of war hysteria and nurtured upon the incessant propaganda of fear."

3. "Our leaders are unable to survey the world as a unit, but have become so infatuated with one area of Western Europe that they have largely ignored the Communist assaults in many other sectors of the globe." Asia, he said, has been allowed "to go by inertia and default."

Investments Increase

New York (AP)—Life Insurance companies invested more than 11.5 billion dollars in domestic corporate securities during the first three months of the year compared with 831 millions invested in the first quarter of 1951, the Institute of Life Insurance reported yesterday.

Board Upholds Phils

Harrisburg (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies were upheld yesterday in their refusal to pay $3,500 medical expenses to Eddie Waitkus who was shot by a young girl in a Chicago hotel three years ago by the Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Board.

President Engages Dewey In Debate Over Farm Prices

Washington, (AP)—President Truman said yesterday Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York made an untruthful statement last weekend when he accused the administration of rigging farm prices just before the 1948 election.

GENERAL DOUGLAS MacArthur (above) expressed last night what he said was a growing fear of the outcome of the Korean campaign will be a decision to "scuttle the Pacific." Addressing a joint convention of the Michigan Legislature, MacArthur asked "And, if an uneasy 'cease fire' eventually does come in Korea, what then?"

Fine To Meet With Gen. Ike

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine, after two conferences with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, disclosed yesterday he plans to meet with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at New York next month.

He said he will talk "about things in general," with the retiring NATO commander upon his return from Europe.

The governor is chairman of Pennsylvania's 70-member delegation to the Republican National Convention. In that role, he is expected to be influential in determining the course the uninstructed delegation will take in the presidential nomination race between Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

MacArthur has been discussed as a possible compromise candidate in the event of a deadlock at the convention between Eisenhower and Taft.

Harrisburg (AP)—Committees representing the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Church will consider merger of the two denominations May 27 at a meeting in Philadelphia.

Important Discovery

New York (AP)—New ways of extracting copper, nickel, cobalt and other important metals from ores by chemical rather than the usual smelting and refining methods were announced yesterday by Chemical Construction Corp.

Snead Holds Lead

New Rochelle, N. Y. (AP)—Sam Snead, canning two eagles, blazed a five-under par 67 and piled up a staggering total of 22 plus-points yesterday to capture the first round lead in the star-spangled Round Robin Golf Tournament.

Reds Expected To Seize Upon Allied Action

Munsan, Korea (AP)—Repercussions from Gen. Mark Clark's repudiation of the Kojie Island prisoner pact were expected today at the Korean truce talks, already rocked by violent Red charges.

Communist negotiators were expected to seize upon the Allied commander's statement in Tokyo that an agreement signed with prisoners to free kidnapped Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd "has no validity whatsoever."

Undoubtedly, they will assert this is further evidence in support of their charges—denied by the Allies—of inhumane treatment of prisoners.

Peiping fired the first propaganda gun on the Clark statement in a broadcast heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press yesterday afternoon. It followed the expected line.

Peiping said the headquarters spokesman for the North Korean and Chinese Red Army issued a statement saying Clark showed by the repudiation that the Allies were "continuing their sanguinary policy toward our captured personnel in violation of all human decency and the Geneva Convention."

The Communist charges yesterday ran to fantastic lengths, such as statements that prisoners were subjected to poison gas, germ warfare and atom bomb experiments. Weary Allied negotiators could only reply "ridiculous" and "preposterous" as the stream of Red charges flooded the conference tent at Panmunjom.

Seoul, Friday (AP)—Allied war planes yesterday smashed a big vehicle repair center in Northwest Korea and shredded the Communist patchwork rail system with high explosives.

As they dealt their blows, a three-plane flight of Red MIG jets flashed out of Manchuria and tried to interfere. All three were shot down by alert U. S. Sabres on patrol along three fronts, pilots said.

House Okays Tideland Bill

Washington (AP)—The House voted 248 to 89 yesterday to give the states clear title to oil-bearing lands beyond their shores.

The vote was an compromise version of legislation previously passed by both the House and Senate in somewhat different form. The Senate is now to act.

The measure is substantially the same as one which President Truman vetoed in 1946. The House at that time barely failed to override the veto. Most predictions are that Truman will veto this one, too.

(Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) voted for the compromise yesterday.)

Work To Start On Atomic Sub

Washington (AP)—The Navy announced yesterday that the keel will be laid next month for the Nautilus, the nation's first atomic-powered submarine.

The actual starting date will be announced shortly, but the Navy said nothing about completion.

Some Navy men have said the new craft may be ready for testing sometime in 1954.

The hull is being built on the ways of the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp., formerly known as the Electric Boat Company, at Groton, Conn.

Two British Girls With Robbery Intent Slug Bangor Soldier Over Head With Heavy Wrench

Cheltenham, Eng., (AP)—Two 18-year-old girls padded out their natural curves one Saturday night and went out in pursuit of Yanks.

But that extra equipment, Cheltenham Court was told yesterday, consisted of a hammer and heavy steel wrench.

"We were out of work and had no money," a detective quoted the girls as saying, "and we knew the American soldiers had just got paid."

"I got the wrench and my friend had the hammer," blonde Winifred Birt was quoted as saying.

"We didn't have any intention of using them unless we had to," Etc. David Counterman, 21-year-old Yank from Bangor, Pa., came strolling along. There was the usual small talk, visit to a pub and then Counterman said he was going home.

"The two girls came out and walked with me," the GI testified.

"When I reached my front door and bent down to put the key in, Winifred Birt pulled something out of her dress and hit me on the head."

"I staggered against the door and then she hit me again. As everything went black I felt a hand going into my pocket where my two one-pound notes ($5.00) were."

Police said the girls first told them the 5-foot-4 Yank had in-

Military Pay Raise Bill Sent To HST

Washington (AP)—A bill granting a 4-per cent pay raise and 14-per cent increase in living allowances to members of the military services was passed by House and Senate yesterday and sent to President Truman.

If the President signs it before May 31, as he is expected to do, it will become effective with May payrolls. An estimated 3½ million active and retired personnel are affected.

The pay increases are estimated to cost 484 million dollars annually.

The raises are a flat 4 per cent on base pay and approximately 14 per cent on rental and food allowances normally paid to personnel with dependents.

They range from an overall $3 monthly for privates and seamen with no allowances to $65 monthly for top-ranking generals and admirals.

Court Asked To Bar N. Y. Water Request

Harrisburg (AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court was asked yesterday by the Commonwealth to reject a request by the city of New York to take more water from the Delaware River.

The city now removes 440 million gallons a day from the river under a 1931 Supreme Court authorization. It wants to increase this amount to 800 million gallons.

Att. Gen. Robert E. Woodside said the state filed an answer with the Supreme Court in Washington yesterday to the New York petition for more water.

Washington (AP)—Funds were sought yesterday for an Army Engineers' survey of the Upper Delaware River region.

John Boardman, an engineer for the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin (Incodel), told a Senate appropriations subcommittee the job could be done for $35,000.

Object of the survey would be to determine what effect the construction of upstream reservoirs would have on problems that might arise as a result of deepening and widening the Delaware between Philadelphia and Trenton.

Cards Stacked Against Husband, Says Constable

Tarentum (AP)—Constable Ed Sherwood is starting a drive for "equal rights for men," especially in desertion and non-support court cases.

Under present state laws, the cards are stacked against the husband in any divorce action involving children, declares Sherwood, adding:

"A divorced father can't lead a normal life. He can only work and sleep, trying to pay for support of his children. He's over a barrel."

"The wife gets the furniture, bank account and the children, and after she cleans the husband out every other way, she starts eyeing his salary."

"Even if the ex-wife remarries, the husband still has to continue paying for support of the children. He isn't unburdened financially until the children reach the age of 18."

Boatner Tells Red Prisoners He'll Be Boss

Kojie Island (AP)—A new era of firm rule was proclaimed yesterday for Kojie Island, ending soft measures that allowed Red prisoners to negotiate with their captors and flaunt "insulting signs."

Brig. Gen. Haydon Boatner made this clear to correspondents 24 hours after he had taken over the festering prison island—scene of two riots and the sensational seizure of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd.

Boatner declared he would, of course, hew strictly to the Geneva Convention for humane treatment of war prisoners, but that the Communists behind the barbed wire would have to learn who was boss.

Even as Boatner talked with correspondents, three prisoners tried to escape from their compounds and one of them was shot by a guard.

Tanks, some of them equipped with flame throwers, stood ready to foil any mass escape attempt such as the Reds threatened at the height of the Dodd incident. Troops were on the alert. Camp authorities were confident they could prevent any big break by the 80,000 prisoners.

Boatner said he believed the Allies had been too lenient on Kojie and had given prisoners "more, in my opinion, than required by the Geneva Convention."

Boatner showed irritation at the idea of prisoners taking control inside the compounds and making demands on camp officials.

"Prisoners don't negotiate," he declared.

Correspondents asked if, in his brief tour of duty, he had seen things that needed changing on this island off the Southeast Coast of Korea.

"You're damned right I've spotted some things," he snapped. "For one thing, I don't like those insulting signs, and the flags, and the demands."

Boatner's stiff attitude doubtless was bolstered by the dissatisfaction shown by higher authorities in Tokyo and Washington over the way the Dodd kidnapping incident was handled.

Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont.) introduced a bill in Washington for a congressional investigation of the incident, declaring "We in the Congress must find out who is responsible for this monumental blunder that has so irreparably damaged our military effort and true negotiations in Korea."

Sen. Bridges (R-Mid.) said after Secretary of the Army Pace was quizzed behind closed doors that the Senate preparedness subcommittee would investigate the affair.

Horsemeat Sales Illegal In State

Harrisburg (AP)—The State Agriculture Department said yesterday it is still illegal in Pennsylvania to sell horsemeat for human consumption, despite an Office of Price Stabilization ruling.

W. S. Hagar, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, said Wednesday's OPS announcement that butchers and meat packers may resume mixing horsemeat in sausage has no effect in Pennsylvania.

Rail Benefits Raised

Washington (AP)—President Truman yesterday signed legislation increasing railroad unemployment insurance benefits. It would set up a new scale of payments running from $3 a day to $7.50 for unemployed railroad workers. The present scale starts at $1.75 and goes to $5.

Two Japanese Hide Out Eight Years On Saipan

Washington (AP)—Two Japanese who had been hiding out in the Marianas Islands for eight years were captured yesterday by the Saipan Island constabulary, the Interior Department was notified.

A radiogram from Elbert D. Thomas, high commissioner of the Pacific Islands Trust Territory, with headquarters at Honolulu, said details would be forwarded after the Japanese have been questioned.

Dump Issue Discussed At Meeting

Stormville—A State Health Department investigator came into the Hamilton Township dump argument here last night at a meeting of the township Civic League.

He was Harlan E. Woehrl, of Easton. Woehrl has been investigating the dump, operated by John Smith, since Wednesday.

Speaking at the meeting last night at Cherry Valley Grange Hall, Woehrl said: "I saw the dump in question this morning and I don't call it properly maintained."

Mr. Woehrl went on to cite State health requirements that "anything organic, such as garbage, should be covered up."

Under questioning by league members, Woehrl said a piggery is operated under different requirements. (A dump adjoining Smith's is operated partially as a piggery.) Pigs, said Woehrl, should be fed on a concrete apron which can be flushed periodically.

League member Ora Bonser suggested that a petition be drawn up which would set forth the requirements for dump operation in order to better control existing dumps and any that might go into operation in the township at some future date.

John Brislin, resort operator, and owner of property in Hamilton Township, told the league of his meeting with township Supervisors Floyd Arnold, Robert Haney and Robert Smith, in connection with the dump question.

"I found the supervisors willing and serious of cooperating in the matter," Brislin said. He added he had asked the supervisors and John Smith to meet him at the dump Wednesday. The meeting was held.

Brislin said he had suggested bulldozing dirt over the top of the dump, sowing rye grass as a cover, filling the entranceway with three loads of shale, and white-washing the entrance area.

The question was raised whether making the dump more attractive would eliminate any health problem arising from the dump's operation. Brislin said a veteran's organization might be able to use poison for rat control.

Bonser moved that a model ordinance be drawn up and that league members petition the supervisors for its adoption. The motion carried.

Brislin said he felt if the supervisors were "given a free hand and a reasonable length of time, they will cooperate."

The dump discussion was followed with a talk by John Wernett, member of the board of county auditors, on management of county financial affairs.

Eighty-five per cent of Berlin's production facilities were dispersed, destroyed or taken east as Russian reparations at the end of World War II.

Civil Defense Setup Drafted For Disasters

Approval for a new Civil Defense Red Cross State Disaster Coordinator set-up has been given in Monroe County, Jack Anderson, assistant CD director said yesterday.

The agreement was reached this week. Under its provisions, the following organization heads will decide jointly when and if a mass care center must operate, in the event of disaster:

Robert O. Schell, CD Family Aid chairman; Russell Harmon, Henry Tucker and Harold T. Rinker, Red Cross disaster chairmen; and Amzi F. Altomose, State disaster coordinator.

CD Director Fred W. Davis and the organizational heads involved worked out details at a meeting this week.

The set-up was one part of the progress of county CD personnel toward developing an organization able to handle emergencies caused by military action against America.

In addition, however, CD is pledged to aid Red Cross in the event its assistance is needed during natural disasters. Red Cross helps CD in the event of military disaster.

Further plans worked out at the meeting involved care of persons fleeing some disaster area and passing through Monroe County.

Auxiliary police will be stationed at the county entrances in the event of emergency. As cars enter the county, they will be stopped and asked destinations.

A "shipping ticket" will then be fixed to the car. On the ticket will be marked the number of the county CD zone in which the refugee's destination lies.

Refugees will then be able to drive on without further questioning, and will be waved on toward the proper routes.

At each of the five zones a registration and reception center will be set up. There, when it is asked, help will be given in the procurement of food, shelter, medical attention.

From the reception center, refugees will be sent to designated homes, hotels, tourist homes and resorts, so long as accommodations last.

Wardens in the zones will keep the reception centers advised of availability of accommodations.

A CD survey is planned—probably starting next week—to find suitable spots for the reception centers, and to determine the number of beds and rooms available in case of emergency in each zone.

Additional Teacher To Be Hired

Cresco—An "indicated" increase of enrollment of first grade students in Barrett Township consolidated school has resulted in a decision by board of directors to hire an additional teacher.

Registration of pre-school age children some months ago forms the basis for an estimate that 46 new students will be eligible for first grade next year.

The board is also seeking applicants for the post of secretary of the school board. The resignation of Mrs. Lillian M. Price from this post has been accepted "with deep regret."

The board selected Harry J. Drennan, president, for the honor of presenting diplomas to the graduating class June 10. Commencement exercises will begin at 8:15 p. m.

It was decided to make awards to the Senior Class this year at class night exercises on Thursday, June 5, 8:15 p. m.

Bills amounting to $7,989.99 were read and approved for payment.

Directors adopted the following school calendar for the year 1952-53:

School opens Monday, Sept. 8; Thanksgiving recess starts Wed., Nov. 26 and ends Tuesday, Dec. 2; Christmas recess starts Friday, Dec. 19 and ends Monday, Jan. 5; Easter recess starts Wed., April 1 and ends Tuesday, April 7. Last day of school will be June 12.

Bids will be sought for furnishing one room of seats for improvements to be made in boys' lavatory and also in the high school library.

Minister To Attend Annual Church Parley

Cherry Valley—Rev. and Mrs. Levergood left here Wednesday for Philadelphia where they will attend the conference of the Northeast District of the Methodist Church.

Conference adjourns Sunday and Rev. and Mrs. Levergood expect to return that night. Saturday afternoon the pastor will return to officiate at a wedding in the local church. While in Philadelphia they will stay with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maxim, 1818 E. Lippincott St.

During Rev. Levergood's absence the Sunday service here will be in charge of Raymond Poortstra and a group of laymen. Services in Poplar Valley will be at 10 a. m. and at 11:15 a. m. Glenn Reish and laymen of Poplar Valley charge will give an exchange service at the Cherry Valley Church.

West End Townships Agree Tentatively To Jointure; Hamilton Weighs Two Plans

Four West End townships moved a bit closer to school jointure at a meeting of school board representatives and State education officials, County Superintendents of Schools John C. Litts said yesterday.

Represented at the meeting were Chestnuthill, Ross, Polk, Eldred and Hamilton Townships.

There was discussion of a plan for Chestnuthill, Ross, Polk and Eldred to build a new high school—location not decided, but in some suitable central point.

The four townships would send all their seventh to 12th grade students to the proposed school, if the plan went through.

As for elementary grades (first through sixth) the present Chestnuthill school building would take care of both that township and Ross. Polk and Eldred would house its elementary grades in separate schools in each township. Ross already has the building for the purpose. Eldred is about to build one.

Hamilton Township's new school—about to be constructed—would handle Hamilton's elementary grades.

As for Hamilton's high school and junior high school students—the school board's inclination remains a question mark.

Hamilton has been invited to jointure sessions by both the West End townships and by Stroudsburg. The Hamilton board has not indicated whether it leans toward the east or west, in regard to a possible jointure.

Hamilton's school board has asked the township's Civic League to conduct a study of jointures... their advantages and disadvantages. The study has been under way a few months. The league has not yet said whether it would favor jointure at all, or if it did, with what group.

Superintendent Litts has pointed out that the present township schools are "filled to overflowing" with both high school and elementary grades.

It appeared a wise plan, he said, to separate the two divisions. At the five-township meeting Wednesday night the group heard from J. K. Bowman, advisor on consolidation and transportation, State Department of Public Instruction. He told of the advantages of jointures, as viewed by the State. The State offers special financial inducements to bring about jointure and consolidation of school districts.

Orren Wagner, adviser in the bureau of elementary education, Department of Public Instruction, described the special services which jointure could provide for school children through expanded facilities and better organization of class groups.

Walter Sebring, assistant to Litts, gave the five-township group the financial picture on jointure. It was pointed out that in the long run, the townships would have to pay about as much for education even if jointure were effected. However, the group was told, jointure provides "more for the money."

More jointure meetings are in the offing. Tuesday night at Room 8, Stroudsburg High school, a recently formed committee with representatives of Stroudsburg, Stroud Township, Delaware Water Gap and Hamilton school boards, will meet.

The Hamilton board will meet with the Civic League's jointure survey committee Wednesday. On May 22 in Chestnuthill Township, the West End group and Hamilton have a meeting scheduled.

Another 'Moral Crusade'

Investigations of "immoral" radio and television shows and "current literature" have been voted by the House in Washington.

Many people think some TV programs are in bad taste. And some examples on the radio or in "current literature" may be revolting to many.

But if the House tries to censor magazines, it might try to censor any other medium—newspapers, say.

And it might decide it is "immoral" for the papers to publish reports on some of the ridiculous behavior in Congress. Which would deprive the readers of news they are entitled to read.

The hotheads in the House who pushed through these resolutions—only 31 of 435 House members were there for the vote—might try to remember what happened the last time Congress tried to legislate morals.

That produced the institution of Prohibition, which ushered in the most lawless era in our history, and made up a laughing stock elsewhere.

We have laws against pornographic and obscene literature. And we have a Federal Communications Commission which can revoke radio and television licenses for good cause.

We also have a Constitution which protects freedom of the press and a tradition that keeps government regulation of radio and television to a necessary minimum.

In this free, competitive country, the public takes care of those who serve them poorly or wrongfully—through radio, television, magazines, newspapers or whatever media—by putting them out of business.

When the public yields that power to Congress, it no longer will be a free country.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

San Francisco — One of the most important election contests for California Republicans, and maybe the entire nation, is under way in the San Francisco Valley section of the state.

It is a new election district—the Twenty-second—created by a recent population shift in the valley area. Farmers, motion picture industry employees and aircraft plant workers populate the booming area, where Republican orators are fighting for the right to represent the valley in a new congressional seat in Washington.

Five Republicans are in the race. They are Joseph Holt, State Senator Jack Tenney, Albert Levitt, Floyd McCann, and Willis E. Stone.

Four Democrats are running for that party nomination, but the only candidate conceded a chance is a professor of political science at UCLA, Doctor Denn McHenry.

The interest is in the GOP contest, for it is here that the parties' divergent views are sharply represented in the personalities involved. The most recent registration in the area reveals a count of five to four Democratic, which indicates that the district will go Republican in the fall. Strange as this may sound, it is true. In 1950, with a State registration of approximately three million Democrats and two million Republicans, GOP candidates won all state offices.

The real battle in the Twenty-second is between Tenney and Holt. Tenney is well known for his vigorous assaults on Communists and Left-Wingers when he was head of the State Committee on Un-American Activities. Holt, a war veteran who was called back into service with the Marines at the start of the Korean War, became known in the State as the manager of Senator Richard Nixon's successful race for the U. S. Senate. He is now out of uniform and is busy stumping the district.

Holt exemplifies the thinking that the Republican party associates with Senators Lodge, Duff, and Saltonstall, along with Governor Thomas E. Dewey and presumably General Dwight D. Eisenhower. He is an advocate of widespread U. S. intervention in foreign countries. On domestic policies he is probably best characterized as a so-called liberal.

Beware of Smeears

Each day we get a bit closer to the two national political conventions.

Each day some of the leading candidates for the respective nominations become a bit more desperate.

Thus we are moving into the season of the big smear. There are going to be open charges and cleverly circulated rumors.

Weigh all of them carefully regardless of where you stand politically. Look at the possible source of these stories. Try to find out what is to be gained by them.

Then make up your own mind in the light of logic and reason. Don't become a sucker for some clever political press exgtn. —Coffeyville Journal.

Youth of Today

Next time anyone poses that age-old question of "what's the matter with the young people of today?" you can give them a one-word answer. Nothing.

Take young James V. Taylor of Pottsville. He's now weighing an offer from four different colleges to determine which scholarship he will accept. And they are not athletic scholarships. The colleges want James because he has been a top-flight scholar since the Third Grade when he started getting straight A marks.

And James is not alone in the field. America abounds with just such young people as our Pottsville neighbor. Trouble is, we read only of the trouble they get into, and not enough of the fine things they do.

Anyway, the next purveyor of doom-for-youth you meet, give them a few of the brighter things our young people are accomplishing, as exemplified by young James Taylor.

My New York

Port-au-Prince, Haiti — This is one flight you have undertaken with only the smallest qualms. The little man at the controls of your DC-4, with the tanned and genial face and the khaki baseball cap on his head, is Basil Rowe—"the world's most experienced pilot." Pan-Am makes the boast and it is no idle one, for Captain Rowe has flown for 38 years, starting at a county fair in Prattville, N. Y., and ultimately logging enough air miles to take him around the world 150 times.

The good captain lives up to his reputation and, except for a brief period off the Florida coast, where the Air Force is holding maneuvers and invites us firmly to drop from 9,000 feet to 7,000—into the middle of a storm—the flight's smooth.

We touch down at Haiti at 4 p. m., punctual to the minute—and there it is again, just as you left it—the warm, lush, endlessly lovely paradise, with its riot of flowers, its sleepy natives, its mountains wreathed in laundry-white clouds, its timeless peace.

Technically you have come this time for the world premiere of a movie called Ydya Bailey, fashioned from Kenneth Roberts' novel—an hilarious idea, of course, when you think that one of these days the movie will be playing at the Roxy.

However, these are things the movie people like to play with, so you grin and go along and welcome the opportunity to return to this island Eden, with which you fell in love back in 1950 during President Magloire's inauguration.

Once here, the days go by swiftly and softly. Was it Saturday you met the mayor? Sunday when the president had you over for champagne, at the striking and roccoco palace? You can't remember. The hours, the days mean nothing here.

The native women still make their two-day trips to the mountain tops by foot, to return to the village with their three dollars' worth of produce in baskets on their heads. The men still sleep in the sun, and because you are a relaxed-type New Yorker, you soon see the merit of their attitude. You, too, become startlingly adept at sleeping in the sun.

There is spearfishing a mile out into the coral reefs of the Caribbean one morning—an honestly fascinating piece of business as you slip on goggles and float through the blue water investigating the colorful bottom of the sea—and then the inevitable: you come across Higgins' American bar.

Why does one do it, always in a foreign land? You drift through the streets, soaking up the native color, and then you suddenly see the sign "American bar" down the street and you go for it like a homing pigeon. So it is in Paris, Rome, in London, anywhere that you are an alien, thousands of miles away from Times Square, which is, naturally, the heart of civilization.

Higgins is Tom and Mrs. Higgins is Gussie, a striking young lady who halts you in your tracks because she looks like Kate Hepburn with blond hair. Talks like her, too, and since you have loved Kate for years, it is easy to just sit there, in the quiet, cool little bar, with the native children peering in through the open doors on the street, and listen to her. She tells you about life back in New York as a Powers model—"I wasn't very successful, really," and Tom talks to you about the mechanics of his British sports car, which is all Greek to you even though you owned one.

So the day goes by, and when

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

So the Russians have finally admitted that there is such a thing as LOVE.

And now, that they admit it, we shall probably soon see an official announcement that they intend to love you. I feel with you an intimacy of souls. I love you, I prize you dearly . . . live, live, live for the greater good of the proletariat to whom we dedicate the entire energy of our lives.

And then she says, "Love inspires new energy into every builder, the stone cutter as well as the scientist."

I was going to write something derogatory about Mme. Gerasimova, because she simply does not seem to get away from business even when she depicts love.

But then I thought of our own lives.

I thought of our busy business men and how little real love they show to their wives and their children.

In the morning a quick breakfast. A glance at the newspaper. A look at the clock.

Time to go to work.

A hundred things the wife wants to say remain unsaid. A hundred questions the kids want to ask remain unasked.

Probably the fellow really LOVES his wife and thinks the world of his children.

But there is no time for love in the morning—the office, the factory, the shop is waiting.

And in the evening?

The man comes home tired, cranky, hungry.

Love? No, there is dinner to think of and his slippers are waiting, and the evening papers are to be read, and the favorite radio program is to be listened to.

"Love," said the article in the Russian magazine, "inspires new energy . . ."

Energy for what? For more work? For making more money?

Unless love inspires more energy for LIVING and for enjoying LIFE, I doubt that our women get much use out of it.

ment, but its servant . . ."

It was not expected that General MacArthur would attack the military, or the military mind, or a cabal of military individuals.

Yet, in this speech, he did precisely that in language so clear and carefully chosen that its intent and purpose could not be doubted. The attack on military armchairism might well be a response to General Eisenhower's astonishing statement:

"If people want me for President, they will know where to find me."

No politician would have dared suggest that the country come looking for him. A military man might say just that because of the adulation which he has known all his life because of his specialized training. General MacArthur, the senior soldier in our service, 53 years in the Army uniform, son of a father who had devoted his life to the Army, knows the strength and weakness of military men. It is from such experience that he said, perhaps with trepidation:

"This form of political cynicism is destructive to the very essence of true representative government and sets the stage for the emergence upon the American scene of the ugly threat of a military state."

"The gravity of this danger cannot be overemphasized. The history of the world shows that republics and democracies have generally lost their liberties by way of passing from civilian to a quasi-military status. Nothing is more conducive to arbitrary rule than the military junta. It would be a tragic development indeed if this generation was formed to look to the rigidity of military discipline and to the rigidity of a civilian administration. It might well destroy our historic and wise concept which holds to the supremacy of the civil power."

The "military state" is the condition that destroyed the Roman Empire, that reduced the Ottoman Empire, and that vitiated the conquests of Genghis Khan. It is the condition that produced countless revolutions in Central and South American countries and China. It gave to Spain its particular form since the monarchy fell. Contrasting to it is the civilian state achieved by such countries as the United States and Great Britain where the military have been held in check. General MacArthur may even be thinking of the secrecy and coverup that is so characteristic of our present Administration in which so many military men, led by General George Marshall, have played such an important part.

Although this speech of General MacArthur will be accepted as political in the sense that he warns the nation against militarism, it is much more than that. It is a warning against militarism, against control of the economy of the nation by the Pentagon. For his greatest emphasis is on this:

"Indeed, it is part of the general pattern of misguided policy that our country is now geared to an arms economy which was bred in an artificially induced psychosis of war hysteria and nurtured upon the incessant propaganda of fear. While such an economy may produce a sense of seeming prosperity for the moment, it rests on an illusory foundation of complete unreliability and renders among our political leaders almost a greater fear of peace than is their fear of war . . ."

These words need to be pondered in the face of a $100,000,000,000 budget.

Try And Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

A well-known Boston book publisher grudgingly gave up his regular Wednesday evening bridge game at the club to wine and dine a visiting English author. She was the horsey type: almost six feet tall, buck teeth, booming voice, and a stance not unlike Monte Irvin at the plate. Along about eleven she was making plenty of noise in the Ritz bar, and the publisher was wishing he was twenty miles from there, but she whacked him heartily on the back, and commanded, "Order me another double scotch, Walter: it makes you so witty."

Underprivileged Children Coming Here For Two-Week Stay

Fresh Air Committee Seeks Homes

A well-organized, continuing campaign was initiated yesterday by the Monroe County Fresh Air Committee to solicit "Good Neighbor" homes for scores of underprivileged New York City tenement district children.

Again operating under auspices of the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund, the committee is representative this year of practically all sections of Monroe County and some adjacent territory. Children are due here the week of July 9 for a two-week period.

Mrs. John R. Wilson, Stroudsburg, is president of the committee and conducted yesterday's meeting in a studio of Radio Station WVPO. In addition to the personal contact work to be developed by the committee, the campaign will be supported in every possible way by The Daily Record and Radio Station WVPO.

Once again individuals will be able to make application for one or more of the youngsters who range from six to 12 years of age. Transportation to Stroudsburg and vicinity will be paid by the Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund. Any medical expenses which might be required here will also be covered by the fund.

For the past few years people of this region have opened their hearts and homes to these city children, many of whom have never seen green fields, farm animals, mountains, except in pictures. Every effort will be extended again this year to provide guest homes for a large group.

Each child is given a thorough physical examination after he or she has been selected from case records of major, responsible welfare organizations in New York City.

Applicants should state the age, and sex of the child.

Other members of the committee present yesterday were Mrs. Walter Logan, Mrs. John Mannix, Mrs. William Gorton, Mrs. Walter H. Caulfield, Mrs. Adan Bohner, Joseph Webster, program manager WVPO; E. M. Rahn, Rev. Ernest Campbell.

Motorist Seriously Injured, Walks Quarter Mile For Aid

Delaware Water Gap—A seriously-injured man walked a quarter of a mile for assistance following an accident on Route 402 near here, it was learned yesterday.

He was Michael Frinzi, about 36, of Phillipsburg, N. J., now in "guarded" condition at the General Hospital in East Stroudsburg.

Frinzi suffered severe concussion and scalp lacerations, a possible skull fracture, fractured left hand and knee caps.

Stroudsburg State police said the heavy model Frinzi car struck a tree on the sharp turn opposite Crossdale Laboratory about 3 a. m. Wednesday, glanced off and rolled over several times. The car was a total loss.

Police said Frinzi climbed from the wreckage and walked about a quarter of a mile to the nearest house.

There he knocked on the door until a resident named Beers, according to police, responded. Young Beers got out his car and drove Frinzi to General Hospital, according to police.

The car was towed to a Stroudsburg garage. Because of Frinzi's injuries, police said, no statement has been obtained as to how the accident occurred. The car was moving from East Stroudsburg toward the direction of Phillipsburg.

Survivors include three sons, Joseph, Wooddale; William, Youngstown, O.; and Howard, Stroudsburg RD 2-11 grandchildren, five great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg. Rev. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg Methodist, will conduct services. Interment is to be made in Prospect Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home today from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Eutot, 77, Dies At Reading

Mrs. Margaret Moore Eutot, 77, Kutztown, former Gouldsboro resident, died yesterday at Reading General Hospital.

Born in Laurytown, she was the daughter of the late Jobe and Alice Rustey Moore. She was a Gouldsboro resident, 60-years, and member of Grace Lutheran church and the Ladies' Union there.

Two years ago Mrs. Eutot went to live with her daughter, Mrs. John Herberster, at Kutztown.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, following a two-hour viewing, at Grace Lutheran Church, Gouldsboro, with Rev. Charles E. Brodell officiating. Burial will be at Lehigh Cemetery, Gouldsboro.

Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Herberster, are: two sons, Paul, Long Island, N.Y., and Luther, Gouldsboro; two sisters, Mrs. Dora Wardell, Thornhurst, and Mrs. Evelyn Stevenson, Scranton; two brothers, George Moore, Scranton, and Kelling Moore, Moscow; and seven grandchildren.

Board Awards Contracts For Drilling Well

A contract for drilling the well at the site of the new Hamilton Township school near Sciota was let to Clarence Wink, Hamburg, the township school board said yesterday.

Wink was lowest of three bidders, at $5 a foot on the total job. The board named Mrs. Lydia Howter, Sciota, as this year's school census enumerator, then moved on to approve a contract with James Eckley, Saylorsburg, for the painting of the interiors of several of the township schools.

Eighth grade examinations for the township will be conducted May 23 at the Sciota school. Commencement will be June 3 at Hamilton Square Lutheran church, with John Little, county school superintendent, as speaker.

At its meeting Tuesday at the Grange Hall, Kellersville, the school board will adopt the budget for the school year.

Dr. Nina M. Price Selected To Receive Exchange Club's Annual Golden Deeds Award

Dr. Nina Mae Price, East Stroudsburg physician, has been selected for the National Exchange Club's highest award—the Golden Deeds Award.

Presentation will be made Monday night, May 26 at a meeting of the East Stroudsburg Exchange Club at Werry's Sunnybrook, Echo Lake, Pa.

National Exchange Club's Golden Deeds Award is made in each community where an Exchange Club functions, to the citizen who has given most unselfishly in service to mankind in that community.

This is the fourth annual award made by the East Stroudsburg Exchange Club. Other recipients have been Rev. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg Methodist pastor; Luther S. Hoffman, retired East Stroudsburg businessman, and Clifford R. Gillam, president of the Buck Hill Falls Co. and general manager of The Inn.

Dr. Price has served the community as general practitioner and "family doctor" for more than forty years, during which her work has taken her into the most remote areas of the county, even back in the horse and buggy days. She has delivered thousands of babies in home confinements, many of them without any assistance, and numbers among her patients today many of the third generation to whom she has served as friend, counselor and champion as well as physician.

In all this activity, she has also been homemaker and mother. She is the wife of Arthur M. Price of East Stroudsburg, and together they have raised seven daughters, all of them now married and with children, of their own, numbering 16 grandchildren.

In addition, she has taken part in community affairs, is president of the Emergency Child Health Committee, on the home nursing committee of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, and past president of the Business and Professional Woman's Club. She is a member of the national, state, Lehigh Valley and Monroe County Medical Societies.

A graduate of the Woman's Medical College in Philadelphia, now celebrating its 100th anniversary, Dr. Price served in Battle Creek Sanitarium, Michigan; in Melrose Sanitarium in Massachusetts, and has practiced in Philadelphia and Wheeling, West Virginia.

Courtesy To Be Stressed By Resorts

Cresco—Beginning May 25, Barrett Township citizens will be asked to practice this slogan—"Remember, Courtesy"—in a courtesy campaign sponsored by the Pocono Mountains Rotary Club to make that huge resort region "courtesy conscious."

Club officials and a special committee said the campaign will continue for two weeks "because we will be doing a service to ourselves by reminding everyone that it is good will and courtesy to our summer guests, not just a comfortable bed, good food and entertainment, which will make them remember the good time and pleasant surroundings of our resort area."

The inauguration of the courtesy campaign will start from the pulpits of the churches of Barrett on May 25. Other means of re-

Newspaper Staff Invited To Movie

Local newspapermen yesterday were invited to be guests of the management of the Sherman Theatre to see the film "Deadline—U.S.A.," heralded as an "honest" account of newspapermen at work.

Films of the past many times have exaggerated and distorted reporters in a ludicrous and wholly unfair manner. This film is proclaimed as a factual presentation of the newspaper business, complete as to detail in the various aspects of news gathering and publishing.

The entire staff of The Daily Record—news, advertising, mechanical, and business office—was included in the Sherman invited-guest list.

St. Matthew's Kindergarten Holds Graduation Exercises

Thirty children attired in caps and gowns received their diplomas yesterday afternoon at kindergarten graduation exercises held in the auditorium at St. Matthew's Parochial School in East Stroudsburg.

Awards were made by two young boys, dressed as priests and the opening portion of the program featured a group gathered around young Lynda Kutsher, attired as a sister.

Richard McCord and Robert Corby were the "priests" in the presentation, the former delivering a short address and making the diploma awards, assisted by young Corby.

Welcome address was by John Nolan. Francis McGarry served as pianist for the program. Girls of the class offered recitations and the rhythm band, composed of the male class members, offered four selections.

After the presentation of diplomas, the children sang their farewell song and Rev. H. G. Durkin, pastor, spoke.

Members of the graduating class, who will start first grade in the fall, are: Leslie Allen, Robert Baird, Robert Corby, David Cortright, Theodore Fish, James Hunt, Ernest Ibarra, Terrence Lipe, Joseph Luzinski, Kenneth Margretta, Richard McCord, John Nolan, George Pabst, Thomas

E. E. Bosman Recipient Of Fellowship

Cresco—Edward E. Bosman, mathematics instructor at Barrett Township High School, has been selected as one of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute-General Electric Mathematics Fellows for 1952.

Mr. Bosman is one of a few successful applicants from among many high school mathematics teachers. His application was supported by recommendations from Andrew Lewis, supervising principal of Barrett School; John C. Litts, county superintendent of schools, and Walter Sebring, assistant superintendent.

Chester H. Lang, vice president of the company, has advised Mr. Bosman that in addition to his studies he will have an opportunity to see how industry uses mathematics at plant inspections. He will further have an opportunity to see how physical problems are handled and the techniques and instruments developed to deal with them will be available to Mr. Bosman in the concern's laboratories.

The entire fellowship is underwritten by General Electric with no strings attached. Mr. Lang emphasized that the concern feels it is "a sound business investment" because not only the concern but "the entire country depends on how well students of today are trained for the work of tomorrow."

Mr. Bosman expects to leave for Rensselaer about the second week in June.

Templars To Convene In Philadelphia

A large delegation of members of Samuel S. Yohe Commandery, No. 81, Knights Templar will attend the 99th annual convocation of the Knights Templar of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia May 25-28.

The colorful Knights Templar parade will be held Monday night, May 26 with local members participating.

George W. Williams is the right eminent grand commander. The Order of the Temple traces its history by tradition to the Crusades of the Ninth Century.

The opening ceremonies Sunday, May 25, will find members of the order joining in "a celebration of the spiritual rebirth," in a service of worship in the Church of Holy Trinity, Philadelphia.

Potato Shortage Still Acute; No Immediate Relief Sighted

By James B. Gaffney

Spud supplies are spotty, spurring spontaneous splutters. This tongue-twister is only half as hard to understand as the potato market at present. Grocers and housewives alike all offer different opinions on the shortage of the staple of most American menus, but no one can put their finger on the real source of the famine.

James B. Gaffney

Two weeks ago it appeared the market would open wide, with the shipment of Florida potatoes. But the condition appears even worse today and now the claim is that southern farmers didn't produce in quantity.

Office of Price Stabilization is blamed by many who said if ceilings hadn't been imposed, the shortage wouldn't exist. Others say a low early harvest, the black market, and short crop in Maine last year are responsible.

Local grocers now look to the California crop for an inoculation. Others claim the situation won't be eased until the North Carolina and Eastern Shore spuds hit the market in about six weeks. But while the rambling continues, one grocer noted his supply for next week has been cut 25 percent.

Tie-in offers of buying bags of cabbage and other vegetables to gain extra potatoes and straight dollar deals where a supply can be unloaded at the regular price, if you throw in some money above the face value of your check, are being handed grocers. Most of these shifty moves are being turned down by the merchant who prefers to sell "legit", and when he does sell his markup is little or nothing. Sometimes he even sells at a loss to keep his customers happy.

Remember those cans of potatoes you'd see on the shelves? They're gone now, most of them anyway. One grocer said he sold about a case of canned potatoes a month before the shortage. Now he sells about three cases a week. And sweet potatoes in cans also are disappearing from the shelf.

What's the answer? Everyone is guessing, but no one knows. But if you have a grocer who keeps you stocked with spuds—treat him nice because a good potato now-a-days is hard to find.

Big doings this week for DeVivo and Quaresimo and Sons, Stroudsburg clothiers, who are marking 38 years in business.

Established as a tailor shop in 1914 by John DeVivo, the business continued until 1920 when James Quaresimo joined to form a partnership. The original member, DeVivo, retired in 1947 and Quaresimo united with his sons, Anthony and John and still maintains the store's name.

Saturday night shopping is now a thing of the past, where many East Stroudsburg merchants are concerned.

Tonight inaugurates Friday night shopping for the majority of merchants. Several, who in the past always closed even Saturday after 6 p.m., still will keep their doors closed. Others will continue Saturday night openings, and join Friday night too.

The decision was brought about by the East Stroudsburg Merchants Association and was prompted by the fact that food chain stores op-

Wake Up To More Comfort

Without Napping Backache
Napping backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday conditions, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the kidneys of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Bridal Shower Is Held For Barbara Risley

A surprise shower was held last night in honor of Miss Barbara Risley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Risley, of Ransberry Ave. Miss Risley will become the bride of William Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tucker, Stroudsburg, on June 14.

Miss Polly Shetlock and Miss Jennene Zugel had arranged the party during Miss Risley's absence from home and on her return she found the assembled guests and the gifts heaped under an umbrella decorated in pink and green, which will be the colors of her attendants' gowns.

Guests included Jeanette Haney, Elaine Hardenberg, Barbara Booker, Marilyn Dautrich, Pat Miller, Dolores Kroll, Virginia Nace, Joan Fry, Lois Savage, Connie Kuchinski, Mrs. Henry Tucker and Mrs. Kenneth Risley.

Neola WSCS Reports All Bills Paid

Neola—The Neola WSCS held a business meeting last Thursday when it was reported that all church bills were paid at the end of the fiscal year.

The group plans to hold a penny supper in the basement of the Neola church on Saturday, May 31, from 5 to 8 p.m. All home-made food will be served and the supper will center around chicken and meat loaf. The public is invited.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

You know that superstition, old even in the time of the Greeks, about the gods being such a jealous lot when man grows proud of what he's got? Well, I've been crossing my fingers and knocking on wood and doing all the things they say you should, because good fortune has certainly come in batches this week.

The announcement of the Exchange Club award for my mother really took the lid off, and I found myself walking about two feet off the ground.

There was some excuse for such levitation at the Garden Club Flower festival yesterday which not only looked, but also smelled, heavenly. Try mixing lilies of the valley, lilacs, and narcissus and you can practically float on the odor.

The hostesses were wishing they could float their centerpieces since the tea table was too small for the sandwiches and the handsome maypole, too. Anybody need a perfectly good, unused miniature maypole?

Maybe the Frank Howards celebrating their 50th anniversary and the Merle Ostrows celebrating their 40th could have used it last night. It's pretty heart-warming to find two couples who, after so many years, are still so glad about their choices.

It was heartwarming, too, to

Clearview PTA Reports Year's Gains

A Parade of Progress report on the activities of the Clearview Parent Teachers Association was featured at the meeting on Monday night at the school, with Robert Hellmann, president, presiding.

Covering the school term, the reports showed progress in the hot lunch, the Trading Post, Membership, and other projects of the school as well as plans for the future.

Mrs. Tess Weber, chairman of the Hot Lunch program, reported to improvements to the lunch room and to the lunches themselves, and thanked the manager Mrs. McGinnis and her aids Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Van Gordon. Mrs. McGinnis will return as manager next year. Other members of the standing committee were Edwin Buck, Mrs. Ethel Yost, Mrs. Pearl Mannix.

Mrs. Betty Imbt reviewed the activities of the Trading Post, organized this year and doing a good business. She announced that the Trading Post would be open on Tuesday, May 20, for the May Day instead of its regular Wednesday next week, and would climax the year with a rummage sale on Saturday, May 24, from 12 to 6 p.m. and featuring many bargains. Members of the Trading Post also included Mrs. Trudi Hellmann, and Mrs. Natalie Kohn.

Mrs. Peg Cramer, chairman of membership reported that the committee and home room mothers secured a total of 79 paid members this year.

In speaking of projects still in the making, William Schiebel, spokesman for the band committee, announced that plans would be held over until next term since the band would come under the jurisdiction of the school board.

Robert Hellmann reported that work on the playground has been postponed because of inclement weather and will be resumed early next term for fall seeding of grass.

Raymond Harding, program chairman, reviewed the programs for the year and announced future activities which will include a May Day program on Tuesday afternoon. Commencement for the sixth grades of Clearview and Ananish Schools on June 2.

Mrs. Natalie Kohn, chairman of the Pops Concert, reported that the program had been most successful with 300 persons attending. All profits will go into a fund to procure a curtain for the gym stage.

Robert Hellmann, re-elected to serve for a new term, expressed his appreciation to the members, faculty and school board for their cooperation, and especially lauded the work of the retiring officers: Mrs. Robert Hellmann, vice president; Mrs. John Schoonover, secretary; and Mrs. Edwin Buck, treasurer; and to the committees which in addition to those listed above included Mrs. Ann Baird, and the hostess committees.

Mrs. Mabel Shook installed the new officers for the coming year which in addition to Mr. Hellmann will include Russell Bush, vice president; Miss Annabelle Niering, secretary; Mrs. Donald Metzgar, treasurer; and Edwin Buck, hot lunch treasurer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ann Baird, and the members of a faculty committee which included Mrs. Lillian Peechatka, Miss Florence Bates, Miss Alice Keller, Clarence Transue and Raymond Harding. The table was decorated with a miniature May Pole.

Junior Prom Tonight

Tannersville—The Junior prom of the Pocono Township High School will be held tonight at the school at 8 when the music will be furnished by Johnny Eaton's orchestra. All alumni are cordially invited to attend, the committee in charge states.

Honeymooners To Be Guests On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Serfas, of 606 N. Church Street, Hazleton, have been chosen as the 1912 bride and bridegroom to be guests of honor at the fortieth anniversary celebration at Skyline Inn, Mount Pocono, this weekend after a search for a couple who honeymooned in the Poconos at the time the Devonshire Pines opened in May, 1912.

At the time of their marriage in 1912, Mr. Serfas was living in Effort and the then Miss Mamie Cecilia Arnold resided in a little house (now torn down) near the Forest Inn in Swiftwater adjoining the property of Harry Hamblin.

For her wedding in the Methodist parsonage at Mount Pocono, Mrs. Serfas wore a white serge suit and a huge hat with white plumes. The ceremony was witnessed by Susan Altemose, mother of Sheriff Jake Altemose of Stroudsburg and Mr. and Mrs. George L. Schaffer Jr. Mr. Schaffer was then the minister at the "Church on the Trail," rededicated and rebuilt after a devastating fire that had demolished the building in a thunderstorm in May, 1911 a few days before the fire that burned the original Devonshire Pines the day before its scheduled opening in 1911.

Mr. Serfas is a native of Monroe County, attended Monroe County Schools and Fairview Academy. He worked for his late father in a "general store" until he entered Mercersburg Academy, Harrisburg, where he prepared for a career in mechanical engineering and was offered a scholarship to Lehigh University.

The year of 1912 was a big one for Mr. Serfas who competed with Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian athlete for a place on the Olympic team and served as president of the Mercersburg YMCA, with a membership of 550.

Mr. and Mrs. Serfas have four children, including their son Russell, of 425 Broadhead Ave., East Stroudsburg, and three daughters in Hazleton.

On Saturday they will take part in the other anniversary celebrations which will include a scenic tour of the Poconos, luncheon at Skyline Inn and the opening of the Sarah A. Cornish room there.

Granacher Child Baptized Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. John Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Altman and daughter Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Richard DeYoung and daughter Joan, all of Staten Island, New York; Gwyneth Johnson, Nelson Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Granacher were dinner guests at

GS Day Camp Dates Set For June

The dates of the Girl Scout Day Camp have been set for the weeks of June 23 and June 30, it was announced last night at the meeting of the Girl Scout Council at the Girl Scout House with Mrs. Harold C. Edwards presiding.

Plans for completing the day camp building for Camp Lloyd Treible on Mosier's Knob were discussed.

Two new members of the board were welcomed: Mrs. Lois Ehrgood and Mrs. Claude Leister. Mrs. Roger Acker reported on the training program completed by two leaders of a new troop meeting at the Shawnee Presbyterian church, and additional training taken by the Brodheadsville Leader.

Mrs. Camille Harvey, executive director in reporting on highlights of the month told of the Senior Scout Conference in Hazleton which seven local Senior Scouts attended.

Mrs. Sevison Re-elected ITU Auxiliary Head

Mrs. Emily Sevison was re-elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of the International Typographical Union at a meeting held Wednesday night at the CLU Club annex.

Other officers elected included Mary Meixell, first vice president; Lucy Forster, second vice president; Emma Knob, secretary; Hilda Kitzman, chaplain; and Mary Kassner, sergeant at arms. Lucille Diehl and Verona Michaels were elected delegates to the national convention marking the 50th anniversary of the WIA, and the 100th anniversary of the ITU.

Plans were made for the annual banquet to be held at Diamond Inn on June 10.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by Verlo Nittel, Sophie Slacker, Mary Werkheiser and Rose Katz from a table decorated with spring flowers.

STORY IN LETTERS

April 26th, 1952
Stroudsburg, Pa.

Dear Madam:

I knew nothing of your wonderful shopping service until last evening when my mother told me. I live pretty well up in the woods, and we haven't any telephone or car. Also, I'm expecting my second child any day. My husband works six days a week and is much too busy to shop for me. You can see how much your service would mean to me. However, I know nothing about how it works. I mean, must I order so much, or any amount I wish, and how do I know how much to send for the purchases and postage?

Could you please send me some swatches of material and several Simplicity patterns, the numbers of which are listed below? I saw a lot but have nothing to select material from. I hope I haven't put you to too much trouble. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Mrs. _____

Wyckoff's
April 29th

Dear Mrs. _____

Thank you so much for your very nice note and order, which reached me this morning. I am sending swatches and patterns. I am very grateful to your mother for telling you about the Wyckoff Shopper, and hope most sincerely that I can serve you on many occasions. You can order any amount you desire, charge it or have it delivered C.O.D., and there is no charge for my services.

Sincerely,
Your Wyckoff Shopper

Dear Wyckoff Shopper:

We have an eight pound, four ounce boy... Just what we wanted. Could you please select his birth announcements and send me the price of blankets? Enclosed is money for 1/4 yard yellow material. Thank you so much.

Mrs. _____

Tonight, rain or shine, at 7:30 is our final Easy Dough Auction in the Wyckoff-Sears parking lot. ESHS Bands Play For Band Mothers

The annual Mother's Day meeting of the East Stroudsburg Band Mothers was held this week at the Junior High School when both the junior and senior bands under the direction of Clement Weidmeyer participated in the program. The juniors played three selections and the senior musicians presented request numbers from the Spring concert.

Mrs. Charles Reid, historian, gave an interesting recital of achievements of the organization during the past year.

The report of the nominating committee, Mrs. W. R. Toeve, chairman, was received and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Walter Grosskopf; vice president, Mrs. David Bernbaum; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Janet Smith; recording secretary, Mrs. Marvin Abel; treasurer, Mrs. Leon Sadler.

Mrs. William Moore was elected to take charge of publicity, Mrs. Carl Secor of Ways and Means and Mrs. Charles Reid as historian.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Sadler, Mrs. Pearl Werkheiser, Mrs. Toeve, Mrs. Bernbaum, Mrs. Lester Dimick and Mrs. Reid.

County Board To Meet With Ex-Officials

Commissioners yesterday reviewed the minority report submitted by Auditor John Wernett at a reading of the 1951 county audit March 27.

The minority report, filed in the prothonotary's office Wednesday, raised a number of questions over alleged errors in bills, and concerning such things as payment of fees, salaries and expenses.

The minority report was sent to the prothonotary's office from the office of President Judge Fred W. Davis, with a directive that attention of District Attorney Elmer D. Christine and the county commissioners—Amzi F. Altomere, W. Adolph Rake and Granville Shiffer—be called to the filing of the report.

Commissioners and solicitor James Kitson reviewed the report throughout most of the day's session yesterday.

It was agreed by commissioners to ask the presence of four former county officials at a conference to be held in the commissioners' office at 9 a.m. Monday.

The former officials, all of whom served in 1951, are Willard L. Quick and Harry D. Kresge, former commissioners (Shiffer, reelected as commissioner last year, will also be present); Detlef A. Hanson, former district attorney; and Claude E. Metzgar, former prothonotary and clerk of courts.

The 1951 audit was signed by Mahlon Beseker, chairman of the board of county auditors, and Mary Emma Garcia on March 27, following a reading of the audit to commissioners.

Wernett at that time said he would not sign the audit as read off by Beseker. Instead he read his "minority report."

Beseker and Mrs. Garcia are long-time county auditors. Wernett was elected to the board in November.

The district attorney said yesterday that he, too, planned to review the minority report.

Buses To Carry Children To Vacation Bible School

Final details for the operation of the Vacation Bible School in East Stroudsburg were formulated this week when the East Stroudsburg Ministerium met at the Baptist parsonage.

Designated as a two-week program Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m., June 9 to 20, the school will convene in East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Five churches and their pastors are cooperating in the program, First Baptist, Rev. Norman R. Savage, pastor; First Presbyterian, Rev. Frank W. Wingerter, pastor; Christian Missionary Alliance, Rev. B. H. Hostetter, pastor; Methodist, Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor, and Grace Evangelical Lutheran, Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor.

The customary Parent's Night service will be held Sunday, June 22 at 7 in the host church. Various departments of the school will participate in worship and present work accomplished during the school's tenure. A picnic will be held June 19.

Rev. Wunder, at the request of the Ministerium, was asked to secure school buses to make rural runs in the area to pick up children in these outlying districts in order that they might have the opportunity to receive religious instruction. The clergyman reported that he had secured two buses for Vacation Bible School usage from Pardee Place and John Leap. Each bus will make its run twice daily to collect the children in the morning and take them home at noon. The first bus will leave the Methodist Church at 8:15 a.m. and proceed south on N. Courtland Street to Brown St., east on Brown and Ridgeway Sts. to Prospect St., and then south on Prospect St. to E. Brown St., then continuing east on the macadam to the intersection of the Seven Bridge Road at Buttermilk Falls; then north to Route 209 at Marshalls; then west on Route 209 through Craig Meadows and Eagle Valley Corners in to East Stroudsburg on N. Courtland St.

The second bus will leave the Methodist Church at 8:15 a.m. and proceed east on N. Courtland St. to King St.; north on King St. to the Stokes Mill Road and continue to the extension of N. Fifth St. in Stroudsburg; the bus will then travel south on N. Fifth St. extension to the intersection where N.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Trial Scheduled For Wednesday

The next civil trial in the present court term is set for next Wednesday. The case is an assumption action with Mountain Peak Mink Corp., represented by F. J. Mervine and S. L. Krawitz, versus Escher Gaiman, represented by George T. Robinson.

Third St. joins it and then proceed south on Third St. to Main St.; across interborough bridge and in to East Stroudsburg on Washington St. Pastor Wunder reported that full insurance coverage for both buses has been issued for these runs.

Parents are urged to take advantage of this bus service and have their children waiting along the bus route each morning. Motorists are asked by the Ministerium to accord every courtesy to the buses laden with children to insure safety and to prevent any mishaps along the bus itinerary.

Pastors Savage and Hostetter, serving as co-deans of this year's school, anticipate an attendance exceeding 425. The increased enrollment anticipated is due in part to the augmentation the bus routes will make in the total attendance. A large staff of teachers and assistants has been engaged by the Ministerium, the names to be announced prior to the official opening of the school.

Bible studies, singing, handicraft projects, supervised recreation and flannel-graph work will feature the sessions.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Stroudsburg High has battled its way to the door of the Lehigh Valley League's front office and a hearing on a recent protest lodged following a game with Palmyerton, in which the umpire called a balk on Alden "Red" Fetherman that the Stroudsburg camp thought far from correct. The latest word is that the league is very much interested in the protest and will hold a hearing in the very near future.

The Mountaineers moved into this uncertain position, much like that of a see-saw, by taking the measure of the Lehigh Valley Indians yesterday, 3-1, at Lehigh. Once again it was Alden "Red" Fetherman coming up with that brilliant mound performance just when it counted most. However, Fetherman was helped by some solid hitting on the part of Jim "Red" Makosky, Layton DeHaven and Gene Caskie. Makosky picked up two safeties, Caskie blasted a triple and DeHaven chipped in with a timely single.

Chet Lucki had one of the best days of his pitching career yesterday, but during the first inning it appeared as if the Pocono A. C. hurler might be in for an early shower. The case was so serious during the first round that Manager John Schoonover, playing in right field, made two trips into the mound before Lucki was given the green light. Five walks and an error gave Roseto three tallies in the opening stanza, but the Pocono A. C. right-hander was the man of the hour the remainder of the distance.

However, even while hurling hitless ball, Lucki was forced to share hero's honors with John Drew, hard hitting catcher who slammed two home runs and sparked his mates in a late rush that ended in a narrow one-run victory. Schoonover banged out three hits and Bill Frear sparked afield and came through with a seven inning single that was a major factor in the victory. Lucki's hurling and Drew's hitting sparked the attack, but it was a team victory, as the Monroe County entry in the Blue Mountain League demonstrated plenty of spirit throughout the game, even while trailing by three runs.

Although members of the Pocono A. C. contingent were happy immediately after the game, some of the joy disappeared when it was learned that hard-hitting Jim Ferkeiser was going to leave the club immediately following graduation at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College this month, to join the Union City, Tenn. entry in the class "D" Kitty League, where Frank Radler, a local resident and former manager of the Stroudsburg Poconos is pilot. Ferkeiser's presence will be sadly missed with the A. C., as yesterday's towering triple proved, but he goes with the well wishes of everyone of his teammates, and his many friends.

Readers, of the Pocono Mountain League, has also been hit by the loss of a player. Lloyd "Sonny" Woodling, another student at ESSTC and a member of that school's baseball team, is also scheduled to join Radler at the end of the school session. However, it might be well to point out that neither has signed a contract as yet and neither will until he joins the club following the school session. Both diamond stars are graduates of Pocono High School.

Pocono A. C. also lost the services of another player for at least one season, when it was learned that Clint Beseker, veteran pitcher and outfielder, would be unable to play this season because of illness. Sherwood Lesig, former Pen Argyl High and West Bangor, Blue Mountain League, star, pitched Radler's crew to a 9-3 victory recently, giving up only six hits, all in the first three innings, and hanging out a double and single on his own behalf. Union City is currently tied for first place with Owensboro, with four wins and one setback.

Phillies Edge Cincinnati, 5-1

Philadelphia (AP) — Robin Roberts spaced five Cincinnati hits last night to register his sixth win against one loss as the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Reds, 5-1.

Sweet The victory was especially sweet for Roberts, who has won six straight since losing the Phillies' National League opener—sweet because he chalked up the win over the Red's ace, Ewell Blackwell. Cincinnati . . . 000 000 000-1 5 1 Philadelphia 120 020 000-5 9 0

Dodgers Gain Nod Over Pirates

Brooklyn (AP) — Billy Loes, 22-year-old Brooklyn bonus pitcher getting his first starting chance shut out the groggy Pittsburgh Pirates last night, 2-0, allowing only six hits.

Early Start The Dodgers got to Murry Dickson for their runs in the first inning on singles by "Peewee" Reese, Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella a walk and an outfield fly. Pittsburgh . . . 000 000 000-0 6 0 Brooklyn . . . 200 000 000-2 6 1

Stroudsburg Downs Lehigh To Keep Hopes Alive

Fetherman Hurls Mates Nearer Flag

Lehigh — Stroudsburg High school placed the outcome of the present Lehigh Valley League pennant race squarely in the lap of the circuit's front office yesterday, when the Mountaineers came up with a well played 3-1 victory over the Lehigh Valley Indians, on the latter's home field, behind the four-hit hurling of Alden "Red" Fetherman.

Stroudsburg's protest of the Palmyerton game now has a definite bearing on the outcome of the flag race and the complaint will receive a hearing in the near future.

The Mountaineers, determined to win this most important game of the season to date, broke a scoreless deadlock in the third frame, when Jim "Red" Makosky opened the stanza with a single, went to second on an infield out and raced home on Fetherman's solid one-out play.

Stroudsburg, thirsty for runs, came right back in the fourth to clinch the contest with two markers.

Karl Weingartner opened hostilities with a single and raced home on a booming triple by Gene Caskie, who in turn crossed the plate on a one-base blow by Layton DeHaven.

Lehigh was unable to dent home plate until the home half of the seventh and final inning, when two singles, a balk and a hit batsman produced one run for the home club, but Fetherman tossed out the last runner to end the game, with the Indians still two runs off the pace.

The win was Fetherman's third of the campaign, as against the same number of setbacks. The Stroudsburg right-hander retired 10 batters on strikes and issued only one free ticket to first base.

Stroudsburg meets Pen Argyl, in a non-league tussle on Monday, at Pen Argyl.

ESSTC Makes Annual Awards

The athletic council of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College conducted its annual "Letter Award" program in the college auditorium yesterday. The program was in charge of George DeLong, student chairman of the athletic council, and track star.

Seated on the stage were the captains of the twelve varsity teams sponsored by the college. Each captain made a brief talk pertaining to his respective team. George DeLong, chairman, gave a resume of the year's program. His report revealed that more than 500 students reported as candidates for the various teams, 172 of whom earned varsity letters. Up to the time of the program, the council had conducted 91 varsity athletic events.

O. J. Liljenstein, faculty advisor to the athletic council, announced that, beginning next year, the council will make an annual athletic honor award to one senior man and one senior woman. The award will be based upon athletic achievement, scholarship, student leadership and sportsmanship.

Lucki Tosses No-Hitter At Roseto As Late Rally Gives Pocono A. C. Decision, 4-3

Roseto — Chet Lucki registered the first no-hit game of the Blue Mountain League season here last night, as Pocono A. C. took the measure of Roseto, 4-3, with the help of a pair of towering home runs by John Drew. Roseto tallied all its runs in the first inning when Lucki gave up five of his six free passes and Don Sweda booted a roller near third.

won over Tru-Matic Tool, 7-3, at the Tru-Matic field.

IAM scored first, but Worthington Mower pushed more runs across the plate and the outcome of the game was never in doubt at Stroudsburg Playground.

Tucker's contingent used a big five-run fourth frame to put its game with Tru-Matic on ice, after pushing two runs across the plate in the second round.

There are no games scheduled in the league today, but action will resume on Monday.

Trucks Hurls Hitless Ball Against Senators As Wertz Wins Pitching Battle With Homer

By Harry Stapler

Detroit (AP)—Fireball Virgil Trucks of the Detroit Tigers hurled the season's first no-hit no-run game in the major leagues yesterday and did it mostly with control. Just when it looked as if Trucks might have to go into extra innings against Washington, hulking Vic Wertz blasted a dramatic two-out home run in the last of the ninth inning to beat the Senators, 1-0.

As Wertz rounded the bases Tiger teammates started backslapping Trucks who hadn't won a game this season and gave up 13 hits in his last trip.

Losers Bob Porterfield, who had pitched no-hit ball himself for nearly six innings, sobbed as he told the story of the game's losing pitch: "It was a fast ball, knee high on the inside."

Trucks, beaming in the clubhouse at his first no-hit game in 11 seasons in the majors, said, "control, that was the story. I used my fast ball sparingly."

Trucks, a 33-year-old right-hander, didn't give a hint of a hit. He struck out Mickey Vernon, the last batter to face him.

The Senators drove 12 flies to the outfield, eight grounders and seven of them struck out.

Wertz came to bat after Pat Mullin drove a fly ball just five feet short of the right field stands. After letting the first ball go by, Wertz drove Porterfield's second pitch into the upper right field stands just inside the foul line 310 feet away. Right fielder Jackie Jensen didn't even bother to run back. He just trotted off the field.

Porterfield had a no-hitter going for five and two-thirds innings before George Kell spashed a single into right field. In all, the Tigers got only four hits.

Only two Senators reached second base and both through errors by Jerry Priddy. In the second inning Gil Coan reached there on Priddy's throw and the official scorer gave the second baseman a double error.

In the sixth Jim Busby went from first to second when Priddy threw wild while trying to run down Busby.

The smallest crowd of the season, 2,215, saw the game.

East Stroudsburg To Invade Fountain Hill Field Today

East Stroudsburg High School risks its slim Lehigh-Northampton pennant hopes once again today, when the Cavaliers collide with Fountain Hill, on the latter's home base of operation. The game is scheduled to get underway at 4 p. m.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that he would send his ace to the hill today, as Ray Steele received the nomination to keep the Cavaliers in the race, which grows alarmingly short at this time of year.

Same Lineup

However, the East Stroudsburg mentor will stick with the same lineup that staggered to a 3-2 victory over Bangor on Wednesday.

The winning contingent got off to a flying start with a single run in the first inning on a circuit smash by Goodhard and then came back with one-run outbursts in the second and fifth stanzas.

It was also announced last night that Johnsonville and West Bangor would clash on the latter's field in a twilight tussle on Tuesday. This game had been previously rained out on two occasions.

M. Smithfield Splits In Diamond Action

Middle Smithfield school won in baseball, but lost in softball this week, as the school tangled with Portland and Clearview schools. Clearview scored a 20-3 decision in softball yesterday, but Middle Smithfield took the measure of Portland in baseball earlier in the week, 7-3.

The baseball game was played at Portland, but the softball contest was held on Middle Smithfield's home grounds. The baseball contest was halted after six innings because of a 5 p. m. curfew.

Damage

Middle Smithfield did virtually all its damage in the third and fourth innings of the baseball game, scoring three times in the third and twice in the fourth. Clearview ran wild for 12 runs in the fifth inning of yesterday's softball encounter, to take all doubt out of the contest.

Albert Named To Serve As Toastmaster For Varsity "S"

Harry M. Albert, secretary-treasurer of E. A. Bell Insurance Co. and well known follower of sports in Monroe County, will be the toastmaster at next Wednesday's Stroudsburg High Varsity "S" Club banquet, to be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, it was announced last night by Alfred W. Munson, Stroudsburg High principal.

Robert Christenberry, athletic commissioner for the state of New York and a part-time resident of Shawnee-on-Deleware, is scheduled to appear as guest speaker at the annual affair. Albert, well known in local athletic circles through his constant attendance at virtually every sports event in the area, regardless of whether the event be in the scholastic, collegiate or professional ranks, has had vast experience in similar positions in the past and is well known for his song leading ability among the service clubs.

Wednesday's toastmaster is a graduate of Stroudsburg High and will be at home among the students who have followed him to the W. Main St. school. All varsity lettermen at Stroudsburg High will be honored at the banquet.

Members of the club, who have taken an active part in operation of the range, will do the instructing from 6 to 8 p. m. each Tuesday and Thursday. All instructions will be free.

It was announced that the association contains approximately 100 members, but only 20 per cent of this number is actively engaged in archery.

The club also decided to purchase two official range targets for matches and also decided to improve the range area as much as possible in the near future.

Red Sox Blank Pale Hose, 1-0

Chicago, (AP)—Boston collected only three hits, but one was a pay-off single by Ted Lepcio for a 1-0 win over the Chicago White Sox in a thrilling pitchers' duel which ended a six-game Red Sox losing streak yesterday.

Ray Scarborough registered his first victory against two defeats by limiting the White Sox to four hits.

The hard-luck loser was Ken Holcombe, making his fourth start in quest of his first victory against two losses.

Holcombe was in a jam in each of the first three innings and finally was nicked for Boston's lone run in the fourth after he yielded the fourth of his five walks in the game to Faye Throneberry with one out.

Throneberry stole second and went to third on catcher Phil Mas's wild throw into centerfield. Lepcio then lashed his game-deciding single to left field, scorn Throneberry.

Only Al Zarilla treated Scarborough disrespectfully, slanning a pair of two baggers.

Zarilla's first double came in the opening inning with one away. When he advanced to third on a wild pitch, it proved the day's sternest White Sox threat.

Scarborough then held the White Sox hitless until Ed Stewart's leadoff single in the fifth. Stewart stole second, but died there as Scarborough mowed down the next three batters.

Zarilla again doubled with two out in the sixth, but "Minnie" Minoso flied out to end the inning.

Civil Court Jury Finds For Borger

A jury of nine men and three women found for defendant Albert Borger, Stroudsburg RD., yesterday in a civil damage suit over a traffic accident.

Borger, represented by Attorney George T. Robinson, was owner of a truck involved in a Route 12 collision near Saylorsburg last October.

Plaintiff, represented by Maxwell H. Cohen, was Lincoln Geiger, Allentown. The trial began Wednesday. It involved property damages to the Geiger car, in the amount of about $200.

The jury left the courtroom, following the charge by President Judge Fred W. Davis, at 3:40 p. m. At 4:55 p. m. the jury returned to the courtroom to ask further instructions—specifically, an explanation of the term "contributory negligence." Then it retired again, and at 5:07 brought in its verdict.
